

Academics

Young pianists win Arrow Lumber talent contest

Area youths in three age categories competed last week for prizes in Arrow Lumber's piano talent contest. A winner and runner-up were selected by judges Bob and Linda Miller.

In the 6- to 9-year-old group, Landon McMeekin, age 9, won first prize, and Mia Snyder, age 9, was runner-up.

Among 10- to 13-year-olds, Corrie Morgan, age 12, was first, and Emily Hausner was runner-up.

For 14- to 16-year-olds, Emily Moore came in first and Sammy Faulhaber (ages unknown) were winners.

Emily Moore accepts her prize from Bob Miller as his wife Linda looks on.

Bob Miller awards a prize to Corrie Morgan.

Landon McMeekin receives his award from Linda Miller.

Courtesy Photos